One World Day is a magnificent celebration organized by the Cleveland Cultural Garden Federation. This massive event requires months of careful planning and coordination, bringing together the Federation with various City of Cleveland departments to create an unforgettable cultural experience.

The Cleveland Cultural Gardens feature 37 distinct gardens throughout the park, with more currently in development. This year, over 30 gardens are participating in One World Day, each offering unique exhibits, activities, and refreshments that showcase their respective cultures, traditions, and customs.
